History of the Network

1970 - The University of Washington Department of Family Medicine was founded in 1970 after the medical school curriculum change of 1968 that placed major emphasis on education and training of family physicians for the State of Washington and the region.

1972 - Founding of the “The Statewide Family Practice Residency Program”. It included six Washington residency programs at University Hospital, Group Health Hospital, The Doctors Hospital, Providence Hospital, Family Medicine Spokane and Family Medicine Yakima Valley.

1974 - Development of a “WAMI” Family Medicine Residency Network.

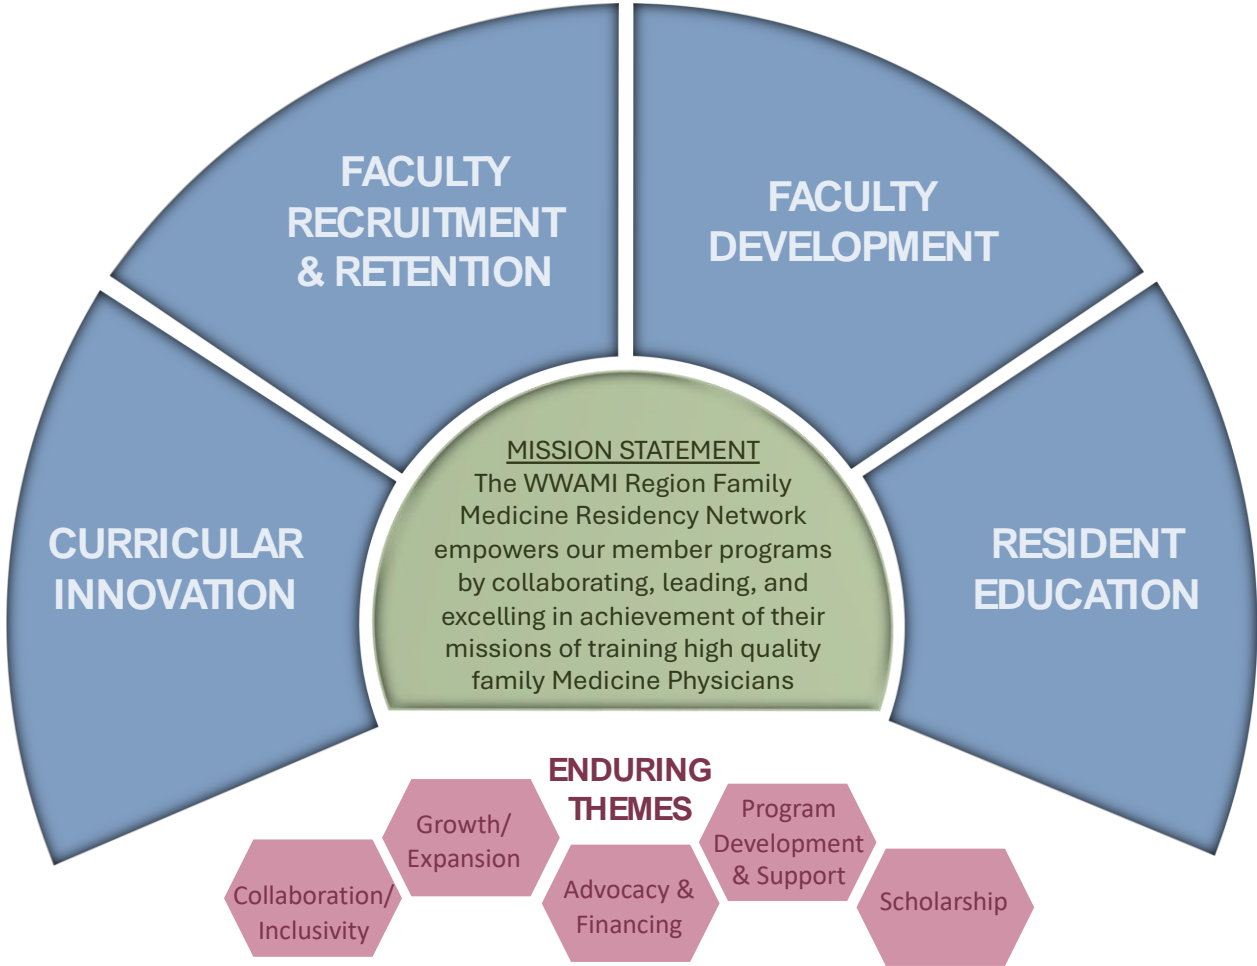

1975 - Seminal legislation that appropriated funding and created a governing board that had financial oversight of the Network.

1978 - Regular Directors Meetings started.

1987 - Start of the Faculty Development Fellowship.

1995 – Creation of Network Organizational Principles and Executive Committee
